When You Identify a Limited English Proficient Patient

Offer interpreting services to a patient in a respectful manner when you notice:

- Patient is quiet or does not respond to questions.
- Patient simply says yes or no, or gives inappropriate or inconsistent answers to your questions.
- Patient may have trouble communicating in English or you may have a very difficult time understanding what they are trying to communicate.
- Patient self identifies as LEP by requesting language assistance.

How to Work Effectively with Interpreters

Speaking to patients using interpreters is slightly different from speaking to patients directly. Here are useful tips to make your interpreted encounters go smoothly:

- Expect and allow more time for interpreted medical appointments.
- Talk directly to a patient.
- Speak in a normal voice, not too fast or too loud.
- Be brief and use plain language.
- Avoid acronyms, medical jargon, and technical terms.
- Pause after a short sentence for an interpreter to interpret.
- Don't say anything you don't want a patient to hear.
